(Lights up on Harry and Will in Harry's office. Will has just returned from his final interview with the men who saw the

Will: I can't leave here without something publishable, Harry. I need to make deadline with something good. Everyone just shut me out once they told me what had already been printed. You have to know more than you are saying. I know that you know what is going on here. You're the postmaster for christ sake! You all know everything!

(Harry turns away from Will)

Harry, I have been an apprentice for a year now. That is the longest ANYONE has been an apprentice at Daily News. Most people get picked up by other papers within six months. . Do you know how embarrassing that is for me? My Father owns the damn paper and I am stuck stuffing envelopes.

(Harry stands and turn away from Will)

I submit every single week and nothing I have written gets picked up.

"Will, your stories are so flat. Where is the turn? Where is the excitement?!" Flat?! I picked a damn monster story! There has to be something you aren't telling me!

(Harry quickly shake his head)

What if I said I didn't believe there was actually any monster in Van Meter? Huh? What if I said I thought the whole story was bullshit? You sent in a false article to cover something else up didn't you Harry?!?!?

(Harry Turns and looks at Will)

What the Hell are you covering up? Huh?

(Knocks shit off desk)

Just tell me God Damn it!

(Harry approaches Will, Furious)

Harry: Get the hell out of my house!

Will: (grabs Harry's lapel) Just tell me the truth and it will all be over!

(Harry pushes will away)
